shuts his eyes, he conceives of a figure crossed by right lines. In rectangular and diagonal directions these indicate the moves of Rooks and Bishops; and zig-zag lines indicate the moves of Knights. The pieces appear to him as individual points. If one thinks of the enormous amount of intelligence and of thought devoted every year to the game of chess, one may well complain about much waste of mental vigour. The question is probably about some quite peculiar talent, from the existence of which no general conclusion can be drawn in regard to the intellectual capacity involved. The skill of the chess player has been often compared with the skill of the general, but experience has not proved that there is any innate connection between the two. Napoleon was a bad chess player, and in case of there being any truth in the legend that he professed the game of patience to the game of chess, who knows that he was a good player even of the patience denoted by his name?

Appended is a puzzle lost some time ago to Mr. Magnus Magnusson Smith, the champion of Canada, by Mr. H. N. Pillsbury. The chess editor of the Leeds Mercury Supplement takes the score from the Icelandic chess magazine, I Uppgjafi, and supplies the notes, which we give in condensed form. We have seen it stated, somewhere or other, that I Uppgjafi is the Icelandic equivalent for "on price."

(a) White's best move.
(b) Black already begins to attack.
(c) Recommended in some books, but from the manner in which White conducts his game, the King's Bishop is blocked in K-K4 to K-Q3 is also in Black's favour.
(d) If the Pawn is captured, Black retakes with the Queen, and wins the advanced K-P.
(e) Well timed.
(f) To support the Kt at K5.
(g) Black threatens Kt to K5. ch. 19 B to Q3 or 19 Q-R to K sq. would lose a piece. Therefore, Q or K must move; and if 19 K to Kt sq., the white pieces are locked up for some time; and Black specially develops all his forces. Having an inferior position with a Pawn less, White resigns.

Scientific investigations have revealed the true nature and composition of cod liver oil, which have been thoroughly verified by experience. No longer is it necessary to force down a dose of nauseating, repulsive cod liver oil, but medicinal effects, the extractive—the tonic, curative, re-building part—may be taken separately in a pleasantly palatable form and with far better results. The genuine—the oil is not only useless, but is undesirable and often detrimental.

Stearns' Wine of Cod Liver Oil is unexcelled as a tonic and reconstructive. It is free from oily matter—devoid of any irritating effect of cod liver oil, yet is the most effective preparation of the latter ever offered. Just the thing for run-down, weakened, puny conditions of the system. Its best friends are those who have tried it, and know what it is. Wholesale from A. S. Watson & Co., Ltd., Hongkong.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

A CHANGE

The proprietors of the Hongkong English newspapers, as we did not know of his existence a few days ago, and consider him of very little account. But he has drawn attention to his own pettiness and illustrated in his own person the causes that contribute to the insignificance of Portugal as a nation and as a factor in the world's greater politics. The application of such a law in this age of enlightenment is retrogressive and oppressive. In the present instance, as the Acting Governor may learn to his cost, it would have been better policy to remove the cause of complaint in our Portuguese contemporaries rather than to resort to interference with the liberty of the Press.

There is not much business in Macao nowadays. It has escaped from the official restrictions and petty annoyances of the Portuguese Colony to the greater freedom of Hongkong; and so the unwarranted interference with the Hongkong English newspapers did not cause any very serious consequences. But it caused much inconvenience to our subscribers and the mercantile community which is interested in the movement of shipping and mails and the local share market, as well as to Hongkong visitors to Macao. If Macao can afford to interfere with the interests of those people it is no concern of ours. The China Mail will survive it.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Starting Gate.

At the request of the members of the Jockey Club, Mr. Courtney, the official starter of races, has resigned his position owing to complaints made against him of having shown too much leniency towards jockeys at the post. The failure of the Australian starting gate on English courses is attributed to Mr. Courtney's lack of control over the boys at the barrier.

Russian Volunteer Fleet.

A despatch from St. Petersburg states that three of the newest and fastest merchant steamers in the Russian volunteer fleet have been added to the naval reserve of cruisers. The volunteer fleet consists of about 15 merchantmen, which could, in time of war, be armed and used for doing work as cruisers. They provide for the regular traffic between Odessa, Vladivostok, and Port Arthur, and run, in addition, the sea trade and passenger traffic between China and the Black Sea, besides being employed in peace as transports for troops.

The Coronation Chair.

With regard to the statements in a letter signed "An Englishman," which appeared in our issue of yesterday (says The Standard in a recent issue) to the effect that Colonial troops were permitted to seat themselves in St. Edward's Chair at Westminster Abbey and go through a burlesque ceremony of crowning each other with sashes and hats, we are officially informed that the whole episode is an absolute invention. The Colonial and Indian troops were the only portion of the public who were admitted inside the barrier, and they were under command the whole time. The chair was not even touched, but was respectfully saluted, and the behaviour of all was most reverent. We may point out that what "An Englishman" stated is borne out by our correspondent with the Hongkong Coronation Contingent. In his last letter, he stated that the Colonials

"even sat in the Coronation chair, one at a time," and we don't suppose any harm was done.

The Subscription Griffs.

The Australian of the 9th August, gives a very interesting series of statistics relating to the Australian turf, and one of the tables is a complete list of "Winning Sires of the Season," from August 1, 1901, to July 31, 1902, compiled from the Australian Turf Register. We have gone through the list carefully, and can find the names of only four sires of the Subscription Walers drawn for by members of the Hongkong Jockey Club the other week. These are—

Sir William, Zeno, Trenchant and Welcome Tom. The records of stock got by these sires are as follow:—

Sir William—winners 3, wins 9, seconds

2, total amount won £5871.

Zeno—winners 3, wins 12, seconds 10, total amount won £447.

Trenchant—winners 3, wins 16, seconds

1, total amount won £4147.

Welcome Tom—winners 1, wins 3, seconds 3, total amount won $2111.

The Walers got by these sires and received in Hongkong are as below:—

Brown mare by Sir William, 14.1, 5 years, drawn by Mr. W. A. Crickbank.

Bay gelding by Zeno, 14.0, 6 years, drawn by Mr. A. Turner.

Brown gelding by Trenchant, 14.2, 5 years, drawn by Major Doany.

Brown gelding by Welcome Tom, 14.2, 6 years, drawn by Mr. G. C. C. Master.

CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING.

Notes by the Way.

It is reported from Bangkok that the Siamese Government intends to issue about the 21st inst., one million ficals of paper currency.

It is reported that a wealthy Selangor resident is proposing to present a Maxim gun to the Selangor Volunteer Corps, and another one to the Perak Volunteers.

A German Scientist—Dr. Behring—has passed through on the Preussen. He is a lecturer on diseases of the eye, ear, and throat at Berlin, and intends making a trip through India and the Far East.

The return of births and deaths for Singapore during the week ending Sept. 6 shows a total of 175 deaths, and of these 39 were due to fever and 36 to phthisis. The average death-rate was 38.78 per thousand.
